Project Management Methodology

Project Management Methodology

In Iframe Software, Project Management Framework is done in five steps to arrive at a complete Solution deployment.

(a) Envision

Understanding your business requirements is the first and foremost step. We will work with you to clearly understand your immediate needs and goals and your operating and technical requirements. We will discuss with you your business objectives and create a strategic plan of action and then comes the establishing of project scope budget, and a detailed work plan.

(b) Architecture

Once we agree on project objectives, we define the functional, technical, and creative requirements. Modifying them would be done based on your requirement after a complete understanding of the specification is done with you during the meet.

(c) Design & Development

Once structural basics are defined and approved we will proceed with the Interface design. We will discuss at length the possibilities of changes in the tech design and build it. We will be in touch with you constantly and move ahead building the design architecture. We will build the final product and if required, we integrate the solution with your existing systems.

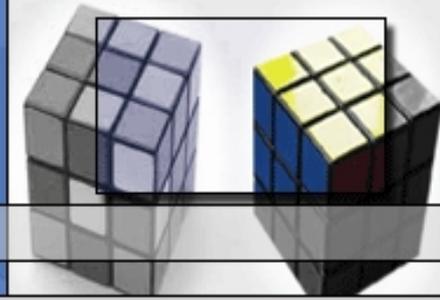

(d) Testing & Implementation

We test and quality assure the deliverable and provide the requisite support to your team and help them in understanding and maintaining the product.

(e) Assess and Improve

After launching, we'll monitor and analyses how the solution performs against the success criteria we defined in the Envision stage. We will provide total documentation for the project and would help you in future enhancements of your solutions by suggesting and supporting every now and then.
